

Do You Suffer from a Money Disorder?

With guest speaker Annemarie Connor, Region Governor for SWE

Did you know that overspending by a little as $250 per month can amount to over $15,000 in 5 years? Living within one's means seems like a simple concept, but in practice, can be very difficult. One of the biggest oversights any person can make, especially a new college grad, is overspending. Isn't it scary to think that the average debt per household is $15,000 and the average college graduate has $20,000 in debt?

This workshop will provide personal tips and tricks the speaker has used to tame her own expenses, as well as provide a worksheet to use for your budgeting plans.
